FORTY-FIRST YEAR, No. 26

CARL MARSHALL TAKES STAND IN OWN BEHALF PLEA FOR RESTORATION

Bay St. Louis Citizen and Attorney Says Disbarment Action Made Him 'Virtually Bankrupt'—Charges, He Says, Are Only Technical—Refuses to Stamp Self As Charged by Court.

Gulfport, Miss., June 21.—Climaxing a two-day hearing on petition of Carl Marshall, disbarred Gulf coast lawyer, for reinstatement as a Mississippi attorney, Marshall himself, on the stand late today, said he was "profoundly regretful of ever having been involved in the matter which brought about his disbarment" by the supreme court of Mississippi last November.

Declaring that conditions brought about through his disbarment had made him "virtually a bankrupt," Marshall said he had "bowed to the decision of the supreme court," had not engaged or attempted to engage in practice of law in the state, and that his "conduct and habits" since his disbarment had been "as nearly perfect as man himself could make them."

Not Required to Reply.

Cross-examination by Webb Venable, president of the State Bar Association, contesting the petition for reinstatement, Marshall was not required by Chancellor D. M. Russell to answer a question as to whether or not he was guilty of blackmail and false swearing, as "the supreme court had held in its disbarment decision."

The chancellor held that Marshall would not be forced to confess or admit guilt.

Asked by Venable if he would be willing at this time to make full disclosure of his handling of $62,000 of $80,000 in involved in the "Warren brothers matter" which led to Marshall's disbarment, the witness after waiting patiently through a lengthy argument over objections from Marshall's counsel, finally said, "I am not willing again to go into that record."

Explains Charges

Marshall further said he was not "disbarred for false swearing or perjury," allusions to which "apparently had crept into the case through error." He said he had been charged only with "technical or constructive blackmail or extortion," because the supreme court considered and declared my statement of disposition of the money as "unbelievable."

Closing his testimony, Marshall said he was "unwilling to be a liability to the legal profession" for which he had "great attachment" by placing himself in position of a "confessed blackmailer or perjurer."

Chancellor Russell, whose hearing of the Marshall petition began Monday morning, made numerous comments, during today's sessions, on the 1932 law, upon which Marshall and his counsel have based their petition, and which is having here its first test since its passage.

Decision Delayed

He emphasized the point that the law gives certain authority to the bar association to make its own rules, which have not been made so far. He held that the principle of "complete confession and repentance" could not be interpreted except with aid of the supreme court itself.

J. L. Taylor and W. Lee Guice argued for the petitioner, and Mr. Venable for the bar association before adjournment was taken. Chancellor Russell said the case was of such importance, particularly as "this case is the first tried with a record of the case," and would not indicate what his decision would be in advance of filing, probably late in the week.

SENATE DEFEATS SOLDIER BONUS BILL DECISIVELY

Vote of 62 to 18 Definitely Disposes of Vets' Hope of Payment Now.

Washington, D. C. June 18.—The soldiers' adjusted compensation certificates will not be paid this summer. Definitely, overwhelmingly, the Senate late last night defeated the bill by which thousands upon thousands of veterans of the World War had hoped to draw immediately almost two and a half billions in cash from the federal treasury.

The tremendous margin of 62 to 18 was rolled up against the measure despite an amazing day-long siege which nearly 10,000 ex-service men laid down upon America's capitol. It was evident that the decision turned principally on the issue of safe-guarding the nation's financial stability.

Senator after senator gave an explanation for his adverse vote this reason, divorced entirely from the merits of giving aid to the veterans.

The fateful roll call was counted out under galleries packed solid with former soldiers. Hundreds more pressed up to the Senate doors and from the outside were plainly audible the songs, cheers and boos of thousands who swarmed over the broad plaza, blocking all traffic but causing no disorder and voicing no threats.

To make doubly sure that the bill would not come up again this session, its opponents resorted to strategy, which is as rare in the United States Senate as it is effective—tabling a motion to reconsider passage. This extinguished the last hope of sponsors to bring the question up later.

To a sea of upturned faces outside the capitol a spokesman for the veterans announced the defeat.

"We have received a temporary setback," he shouted. "The Senate has refused to pass the bill."

A half-stunned silence and then a tremendous boo. "But we will stay here until the bonus is paid," he roared again. Quickly then the blare of a band started them singing a chorus of "America." Then leaders pleaded with the men to return, not home, but to their billets for the night, leaving further campaign plans for the morrow.

Full realization of the extent of their defeat apparently had not sunk in as the men yielded to persuasion and trudged off, a few at a time. Additional thousands who remained in the several camps went to bed believing the final vote was yet to come.

Even Up

"I desire no remuneration for this poem," said the office visitor. "I merely submit it as a compliment." "Then my dear sir, allow me to return the compliment," replied the editor with true journalistic courtesy.

City Democratic Executive Committee Meets and Organizes

A meeting of the recently-elected City Democratic Executive Committee members was held Tuesday night, with H. Wilbur Driver, Jesse Coward and C. G. Moreau present. Mr. Driver was elected chairman and C. G. Moreau secretary.

It was the opinion of the committee that since August 1 was the deadline for tax-payers before becoming delinquent voters that it would be best to await that date before determining the date for holding the city primary elections.

The general election will take place on the second Tuesday of December, and not less than thirty days must elapse before that date. Four years ago, under a former law, not less than 15 days were allowed to elapse before election date.

In cities of over ten thousand population, like Gulfport, Laurel, Hattiesburg, where the primaries have already been held, the law is entirely different, it was pointed out. However, the committee adjourned subject to an early call again by Chairman Driver.

SUCCESSFUL BENEFIT.

Benefit bridge party at Hotel Weston, Wednesday, evening by the Ladies' Auxiliary, local American Legion post, attracted many and some dozen tables of players enjoyed the evening until a late hour.

The affair took place in the sun parlor of the hotel. A cake of size and beauty and tested deliciousness was given as the entrance prize. In addition there was a prize for each table. These were attractive and well worthy of striving for.

Mrs. Laurent Dickson and Miss Azalee Favre, capably assisted, conducted the arrangements and their efforts were well worthy of the success which was announced after the benefit.

SPANISH- AMERICAN CAMP

To Be Organized for This Section—Petition Circulated Asking For Charter

There being sufficient number of Spanish-American war veterans residing in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland vicinity, a petition is in process of circulation by local veterans seeking to be granted a charter for a camp of their own.

This petition is addressed to the State Department of Spanish-American veterans, located at Jackson, and must carry at least ten names. Already the petition carries more than the number necessary.

Local veterans now belong to the Gulfport camp but are going to have one of their own. The name will be selected later, it was said by Mayor Charles Traub, Sr., who is one of the Bay St. Louis veterans.

State convention was held at Gulfport last week and both Waveland and Bay St. Louis were well represented. As the organization develops, and following election of officers, The Echo will carry more information relative to the project.

Bay St. Louis has various and numerous organizations, clubs and societies of all kinds, indication of a live and progressive community. Now we add with interest another, the Spanish-American war veteran camp.

COAST JOB AGENT HELD ON FALSE PRETENSE CHARGE

Arrest at Gulfport Follows
Employment Advertisement.

Gulfport, Miss., June 22.—C. D. Farmer, former Gulfport resident, was charged with false pretense here this afternoon in connection with an employment advertisement which has been appearing in North Mississippi weekly newspapers. He was arrested by Chief of Police Ben Cruthirds, allegedly while receiving mail in reply to his advertisement. The charge of false pretense was filed by County Attorney Gaston Hewes in the county court.

The advertisement for which Farmer was arrested recited, officers said, that $5,000,000 was being spent on the Mississippi coast by the federal government and that other large building projects were in contemplation. Seekers of employment were requested, it was said, to send the employment agency a $1 fee to be refunded in 30 days if the applicant was not provided work.

The Central Labor Union of Gulfport at a meeting Tuesday night adopted a resolution declaring that federal projects on the coast amount to less than $1,000,000 and that no other construction was contemplated. Commander Luther Maples of the American Legion urged unemployed legionnaires throughout Mississippi to disregard the advertisement as the coast already had an abundance of idle labor. The Chamber of Commerce and Mayor J. W. Milner also condemned the advertisement.

Farmer at one time resided on West beach here and later resided in Broadmoor. He was then a traveling salesman. He is married.

Mr. Carl Marshall was a visitor and in answer to a call from the chair gave a brief and impromptu talk in his own inimitable and all-absorbing manner.

The meeting for Wednesday week will call for balloting on a proposed member, election of a director and also for one vice president, a meeting of the board of directors to follow the regular meet.

Wednesday's meeting was one not to be forgotten since it was graced by a number of out-of-town and other guests, including a number of ladies.

FINE WHITE PAPER CAN BE MADE FROM PINE IN SOUTHLAND

Savannah, Ga., June 22.—A discovery that white paper can be made from virtually all the South's pine, opening vast new commercial fields for its forests, has been announced here by the Georgia state experimental paper mill.

Exhibits of white paper chemical pulp, made for the first time from long leaf and loblolly varieties which comprise eighty per cent of the southern pine timberlands, have been prepared for display before the Georgia Forestry Association at Rome, Ga., tomorrow under supervision of Dr. Charles H. Herty of New York, director of research and former president of the American chemical society.

The new method of making paper is a development of Dr. Herty's earlier discovery white paper and news print, contrary to a fifty-year-old belief of scientists and paper experts can be made from slash pine.

Slash is confined to approximately 10,000,000 acres chiefly in Georgia, Florida and a strip of the Gulf Coast but the new white paper pines, loblolly and long leaf, cover approximately 100,000,000 acres constituting the bulk of the southern forests through Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Tennessee.

GOOD ADVICE FOR A SAFE FOURTH OF JULY

This year most of the nation will celebrate the Fourth of July with a three-day holiday. Such a long period for recreation is awaited eagerly by us all. Yet its unusual length doubles the hazards and danger to which we will be exposed.

Independence Day is known as the worst accident day of the year. This year may break the tragic record unless everyone guards himself closely and observes all safety rules. A list of "don'ts," all excellent advice, has been prepared by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters and follows:

If your drive your car—Drive safely:

Don't drive recklessly—it's a long holiday and there's plenty of time. Don't take out your car unless it is in first-class condition.

Don't drive on the wrong side of the road—keep to the right.

Don't drive too long without resting—mental lapses due to fatigue cause accidents.

Don't pass other cars unless you have a clear view ahead; don't cut in and out of traffic lines; don't pass or fail to slow down at intersections.

If you go swimming—swim safely: Don't attempt marathon races by swimming too long or too far.

Don't venture out into deep water if you're not a strong swimmer.

Don't swim away from the crowd—"in unity there is strength."

Don't indulge in ducking others or in frightening weak swimmers or children.

Don't lie too long in the sun—sun poisoning is injurious and can be fatal.

If you celebrate with fireworks—Celebrate safely:

Don't hold lighted firecrackers in your hand or throw them close to others.

Don't explode firecrackers near combustible materials.

Don't celebrate with guns loaded with real cartridges or shot; firecrackers and toy cap pistols are dangerous enough.

Don't get too close to a display of fireworks—premature explosions occur.

SUMMER ON GULF SHORES.

WITH the advent of June, and what is rarer than a perfect day in June? many visitors to the Mississippi Gulf Coast are noted, coming from all sections to enjoy the season's delights on the gulf shore.

At one time it will be remembered visitors arriving here were only confined from practically one section and that was New Orleans and vicinity, but today that order is changed. Representatives from all sections of other States gather here and leave reluctantly, leaving with the one upmost thought that they hope to soon return. If not in the immediate future, surely at some other time.

This is a great tribute to our section where summer beckons. Cooling breezes, seawater swimming, purest of artesian drinking water, auto drives, boating and kindred things all conspire to lure and compel after the visitor reaches here.

It has been said that the Gulf Coast offers the maximum of accommodation at the minimum cost, and well may this be said. It is true and best proven by the oft-repeated trips of visitors. And the cost is never hurtful.

The moral, then, of this article, to the reader away is: Come to the Mississippi Gulf Coast for vacation period or longer recreational period. There is plenty of amusement to entertain.

And to those who love to fish, well—this is their paradise.

AS TO CITY ELECTIONS

AT a meeting of the recently-elected city Democratic executive committee for Bay St. Louis, held a few evenings since, that body organized and adjourned. It was found impracticable to name any day upon which to hold the municipal primary election to be held here in view of the fact that new condition has arisen.

Heretofore all taxes for the previous year were paid in full by February 1. Failure to do so on that date disqualified the delinquent and he or she were unable to vote.

Since taxes are payable in installment, with August 1 as the far limit, delinquents do not occur until after that date. To hold an election before that time would cause room for doubt and possible contest. Since the regular election is not held until about the middle of December there is no necessity, the committee opined, to rush the primaries before the limit date when a voter might become a delinquent for the year.

Hence, the meeting adjourned to be called at an early date when more specific information might be gathered and a more competent knowledge of the law obtained in the premises.

Primaries for the last municipal election, 1927, were held November 19 and 26, respectively. General election followed on December 13.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

EXPECTING nothing else no one was disappointed at the deliberations and results of the national Republican convention held at Chicago last week. However, cut and dried, as it was, it was one of the tamest of performances yet and has brought a great deal of ridicule.

Particularly is this so as to the prohibition plank, moist on one side and dry on the other. Yet so ambiguous as to make it undecipherable. Evasive, deceptive and offering nothing. It is hard to conceive, with any degree of sober thought, how the Republicans plan to get by on such flimsy make-shift.

Surely the repealists, modifiers and others who wish a change of some kind from this sahara-dry farce law, will take no stock in this camouflage. Nothing but ridicule and disregard for the party will result.

Hoover's administration has solved little or nothing of the many perplexing problems that have arisen during his administration. The truth of the matter we are worse off than when we started nearly four years ago with Hoover and Curtis!

And again, it is "Hoover and Curtis!"

Gulfport says again, "Yes, we have no bananas today!"

The only trouble with being on time is that somebody else keeps you waiting; why not have a regular late discount?

Noting that a man in Boston spoke a language not understood by any of thirty interpreters the Mobile Register suggests that it was Negro dialect as it is often written.

Last week's Echo reproduced an editorial from the Brookhaven Leader, endorsing Judge V. A. Griffith's candidacy for re-election to the Supreme court bench. The Echo's comment, as well as the Leader's article is receiving much notice, reproduced in many newspapers, with additional comment. Judge Griffith is finishing an unexpired term and is seeking election for a full term, to which he is entitled.

We certainly cannot see how Lamont P. Rolands, referee in Mississippi for the White Republican party, can remain in the party and save his political self respect after the manner in which he was "booted" by the recent Republican convention at Chicago and Perry W. Howard and Dr. S. D. Redmond, negroes of Jackson, recognized and put in his place. Such repudiation is a pretty hard dose to swallow.

TRIBUTE TO A CITIZEN.

HUNDREDS of unsworn witnesses assembled at the Harrison county courthouse this week to voluntarily testify in behalf of the character and integrity of Former Senator Carl Marshall, of Bay St. Louis, who was the subject of ex parte proceedings anent reinstatement following his recent disbarment as practicing attorney by the lower and higher courts.

This hearing before chancery court, with Judge Russell presiding, Lt.-Gov. Bidwell Adam headed eminent counsel for the defendant while the prosecution was headed by Judge Venable, president State Bar Association.

It is indeed a tribute to a citizen when his fellowmen assemble in so large number and remain awaiting in order to offer testimony that will offset any charge and subsequent court decision, whether right or wrong.

It was contended that Attorney Marshall had been found "TECHNICALLY" guilty of certain charges; later that he had been more than sufficiently punished; and had not his behaviour been such as to refute such charges, even though the court had passed on same? It was further shown by repeated testimony that he had been known as an exemplary citizen; a man whose ethics were always above reproach and his integrity never questioned.

The hearing resulted that the public faith in his "tried virtue or integrity; approved moral excellence; honesty; rectitude; uprightness and probity of mind" was unshaken.

It was conclusively shown that in view of recent court proceedings and decisions, with all regard to the honesty of the courts, he still enjoys, immeasurably and in unqualified terms, the confidence of the public.

As this is written court had adjourned. Judge Russell has taken the matter under advisement before rendering his decision. It is awaited with much interest. Under the law the prosecution has 60 days in which to file an appeal to the supreme court. However, this is optional.

The Sea Coast Echo has never lost confidence in its fellow citizen. We feel, punished and penitent as he is, and found guilty on technicality, he will be reinstated and granted that privilege of making a living for family and self.

The Democrats have a chance of life-time this year. It is hoped the leaders will become overwhelmed with their success practically in hand nor overconfident and cause blunders to occur which will bring on disaster. At no time has the Democratic party better prospects for success.

ELECTIONS AND BUSINESS.

ONE of the prime fallacies that obtain in the popular mind is that presidential elections wreck business.

When things don't go to suit any set of business men you hear them howl that the political horizon is disturbed and that conditions will get better when everything is settled.

It's a line of hokum! There is nothing to it. In 1928, the National Association of Manufacturers made a canvass to learn how things were going in the business world. Trade was reported as favorable by more than 93 per cent of the 4,000 concerns reporting, although the county was supposed to be in a turmoil over electing a president, and according to odd ideas business should have been holding off.

More than this, when Col. Leonard P. Ayres, of the Cleveland Trust Co., made a survey some years ago, he published statistics indicating that neither Republicans or Democrats had any monopoly on prosperity or depression, which moved Merryly Stanley Rukeyser, financial writer to conclude that "there is a current disposition to over-emphasize the effects of politics on the business cycle."

This writer points out that "as to the superstition that presidential years are necessarily periods of adverse business, an inspection of the annuals of American business since the founding of the Republic shows that out of the thirty-five presidential election years, fifteen were periods of prosperity, eleven were years of depression, and nine were uncertain, marked by irregularity of conditions."

So much for this hoary headed popular fancy. However, there will be people twenty years hence believing that elections upset the economic apple cart and that the way of business success lies between presidential turmoils.

WHAT ABOUT ADVERTISING?

IS there any thing to this so-called advertising?

Most modern business experts say that there is. They insist that the proper appeal will produce results for almost any business man. They point out, however, that very often advertising fails because the man putting up the money doesn't do his part.

Many merchants in towns the size of Bay St. Louis take a careless attitude towards advertising, if they take any attitude at all. They look at it as a hazy necromancy, as a put and take gambling affair, subject to no rules and responsible to no study. They are wrong, if we are to believe disinterested witnesses.

The American Institute of Banking, recently meeting at Los Angeles, heard Peter Michelson, of the Bank of America, declare that "we consider our newspaper advertising with its constant appeal through repetition, as the backbone of 'back to good times' advertising campaign."

The Wyoming stock growers, meeting at man of the live stock and meat board, declare Cheyenne, Wyo., heard Charles D. Carey, chair, that newspaper advertising has been effective in increasing the consumption of meat on the Pacific coast and in other regions.

Maybe, they are all wrong! Maybe the man who runs a store, or manufactures a product to sell doesn't know what it is all about. He presumes that when big shots in the industrial world pay $15,000 for a single page of advertising that they are making a donation to the publisher of the journal.

Maybe, we say, and again, maybe.

This is the time of the year to pay up your debts, if you are able, and if you can't arrange your plans so that you will be able to pay them as soon as possible. You will then help to bring about real business recovery.

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS

By Chicagoan

A Review of the News of Last Week's Echo.

CHICAGO, ILL., June 21.—The convention season opened in Chicago last week. It will continue until both great parties have finished with their work. From the speeches one can learn that George Washington, were he alive, would be the unanimous choice of both parties for President. But there would be a hot fight between Thomas Jefferson of Virginia and Abraham Lincoln of Illinois for second place. Living afar from Chicago and reading newspaper reports of the convention a person might get a picture of a city wild with excitement. The truth is that the city for the past week has been about like what Bay St. Louis is on a rainy afternoon.

When Lake Shore and Bingham crossed bats in the opening game, there was little concern expressed about which political party would deal out the postoffices for the next four years. A timely hit was of far more importance to the players and the fans than the wording of the successful resolution on the prohibition question. In Chicago last week, Babe Ruth, playing in Comiskey Park, probably attracted more attention than some of the delegates. Some of the bigger lights in the party may have remained away from the convention because they knew Babe would steal the show.

Next to the political writers, society editors are the busiest of newspaper people, during a national convention. Reading their efforts last week, I was almost convinced that the gowns worn by Alice Longworth, Mrs. Hurley, Dolly Gann and Bertha Baur at the convention hall were fully as important as the deliberations of the convention. Maybe they were. They danced in the national spotlight did these fine ladies, but that made them not a whit more beautiful than the damsels who will trip the light fantastic at the new pavilion at Clermont-by-the-Sea on July 2nd. The fresh air, and the sunshine of the Mississippi Coast, paints roses on cheeks that cannot be equalled by the cherry blossoms that color the nation's capital in the Spring.

The Republican National convention said something about taxes. The coming Democratic convocation will express itself on the same topic. But the Echo said something about taxes that strikes a lot nearer home. When you pay the national taxes outlined in the Echo last week, about 75c out of each tax dollar will be devoted to paying the costs of a war we recently enjoyed, and those of establishments necessary in case of another war. Only about 25c goes to the so-called "tax-waster." These taxes can be reduced, but not enough to provide needed relief. We have learned that we can't dance without paying the fiddler. Bay St. Louis is to be congratulated on having a city administration which has so conducted affairs that it can make a cut in costs at a time when all citizens find their incomes curtailed.

Kings and queens, will rank only below the aces on June 22nd, when people gather at the Weston Hotel to play cards at the Legion Auxiliary benefit. Jacks, too, were of considerable importance, and even a ten spot was honored when its particular party was in power. But never a President, nor a Cabinet member, nor even a Congressman is given a place in a deck of cards. Doesn't that beat the deuce?

Many a Big Shot, thinking he's having the time of his life at some national gathering or the other has forgotten the real pleasures to be found at a church picnic such as the First Methodist and First Baptist churches enjoyed Wednesday at Dr. Carroll Allen's farm on Jordan River. The open air, good food and plenty of wholesome laughter produce a relaxation hard to find anywhere else. And the sleep that follows: Medical genius has never concocted a potion that will bring about such slumber. Nor is it likely that either political party will even suggest a national policy that for health and enjoyment can surpass such outdoor social events as are common in the Bay St. Louis community.

I see the members of St. Margaret's Daughters have secured the Chamber of Commerce's endorsement for their campaign. It has nothing to do with national prohibition, although I'm sure individual members have their opinions on that. Right now, theirs is a campaign to relieve the needy of the community. So while one set of del-

PESTIFEROUS JUSTICE.

Jackson, 2606 So. Wells St., Chicago. Nick Justice "pestered" Mollie Not once, but eight times did he annoy her.

So Miss Mollie resolved to see if there was other justice in the world. She had Justice haled before Municipal Justice Green, then she told her story.

Each time the Sea Coast Echo comes from the press, it carries a keynote speech by leading businessmen. In its columns the merchants set forth the plans in their platforms, and the people are convinced their merchant neighbors are worthy of support. Sad to admit, there are still some merchants as there are some politicians who hide their talents under a bushel. They do not come out in the open and admit that the goods on their shelves are for sale. They insist that the newspaper support them, but they evade cooperating with the others who are doing their utmost to make Bay St. Louis a favorite trading point for the territory of which it is the logical center. Vote for the man who tells you where he stands. Trade with the merchant who makes public what he has in his store.

ROTARIANS OF 3,500 CITIES IN SEATTLE FOR ROTARY CONVENTION

Seattle, Wash., June 18.—Representatives of Rotary clubs in more than 3,500 communities the world over are gathering here Saturday for the 23rd annual Rotary convention. These delegates and visitors from nearly sixty countries will study the international relationships of peoples, and the ways and means of improving international cooperation.

The world tour of the president of Rotary International, Mr. Sydney W. Pascall of London, England; the economic situation which prevails everywhere in the world today; the Geneva disarmament conference, and the general realization of the independence of nations are among the causes which will focus the attention of the convention delegates particularly upon international problems.

The early arrivals for the Rotary convention week included 77 district governors-elect who have been in conference with the international board of directors for the past week at Victoria, B. C. These governors on July 1st become the official representatives of Rotary International in their districts over the world.

CHICKEN HEARTED.

On the eve of the first of the two great national conventions, Chicago police received a telegram from the sheriff at Paw Paw, Michigan, announcing:

"The champion chicken thief of this state is headed your way."

Further reading of the message dispelled any possibility that the Michigan officer referred to a delegate to either convention.

The man in question is a fugitive, it was revealed. His name is Edward C. Witt and he has served fifty days of a sixty day sentence in Paw Paw jail for stealing chickens.

A Long Hike

First Girl—Dick says he came from a good family.

Second Girl—Yeh, and I'll bet he's footloose.

A CAT MENACE.

Cats are not always the innocent purring creatures, that they seem to be when lying before the fireside or sleeping on the sofa. Indeed, the intimate contact with people which cats enjoy is sometimes a menace to human life, for they may carry in their bodies or in their fur the causative agents of human disease.

Cats are the hosts of several animal parasites, some of which are transferable to man, according to the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Rat bite fever has in several instances followed the bite of a cat. A dog tapeworm and the hog roundworm are harbored by cats. Brucella melitensis, the cause of undulant fever, has been isolated from the mesenteric glands of infected cats.

Millions of domestic cats gone wild are said to inhabit Australia and are rapidly destroying the bird life of that continent.

Game keepers in different States agree that in the last twenty-five years the errant cat has become the worst of all enemies to birds. British Columbia reports that in the Far North the valuable sooty grouse has been almost exterminated by cats. On Martha's vineyard, they have been partly responsible for the extinction of the heath hen and on islands along the coast have annihilated the breeding colonies of gulls and of terns. In the State of Wisconsin the cat has been outlawed, except under such control as is prescribed by the legislature.

CASTLES IN HOTELS.

Castles, like most everything else, have been deflated, so one must conclude from the statement issued by Deputy Prohibition Administrator Hamilton as convention delegates began their descent upon Chicago.

"If a man's home is his castle, so is his hotel room during a great national convention."

A few loudly dressed gentlemen carrying little black bags with which they sought entrance to certain castles learned that they had no constitutional rights, however.

MANY TESTIFY IN COURT RE-INSTATEMENT HEAR- ING OF CARL MARSHALL

Character Witnesses Are Many For Bay St. Louis Attorney and Have Inning at Trial Before Judge Russell at Gulfport This Week—Many From This City.

Gulfport, Miss., June 21.—Anticipating the probable taking of the witness stand of Carl Marshall, disbarred Gulfport and Bay St. Louis lawyer in behalf of his own petition for reinstatement as a practicing attorney in the courts of the state, a crowded courtroom at Gulfport this morning sat through almost an interminable introduction in rapid succession of character witnesses introduced by attorneys for Mr. Marshall.

Virtually a repetition of the questions and answers given yesterday by nearly two score of witnesses marked the continuation of the hearing this morning before Chancellor D. M. Russell. The trend of all the testimony was to show that the petitioner owing to his having rehabilitated his character since his disbarment by the state supreme court last November for his connection with the $80,000 Warrentite scandal, had earned his reinstatement as a practitioner.

All efforts of petitioner's counsel to steer clear of any question as to the accuracy of justice of the supreme court action in disbarring Marshall were futile as on cross-examination, Webb Venable, president of the State Bar Association, who is on behalf of that organization contesting the reinstatement petition, interrogated witnesses as to whether they believed Marshall guilty of "blackmail and of false swearing under oath," the stamp put on him by the supreme court in its judicial determination of the disbarment case.

Some of these witnesses frankly admitted that they believed the high court was in error, some that he was "the goat" for someone else's wrongs and still others declared they did not believe him guilty of the charges. Others of the character witness group, however, particularly those of the legal profession while admitting that they accepted the supreme court's ruling on the matter declared that "if he were guilty, he has been sufficiently penalized and should be reinstated."

Today's Witnesses.

The first direct testimony that Mr. Marshall had ever admitted "any wrong doing in connection with the Warrentite scandal came this morning from J. L. Taylor, Gulfport lawyer and member of petitioner's staff of counsel. Mr. Taylor testified that Marshall had admitted to him that he had done some things wrong. The witness said he regarded Marshall as "a changed and thoroughly rehabilitated man" and when asked upon cross examination to testify as to some evidences of this change stated that he had quit "telling smutty stories," a habit to which the witness said he had formerly been addicted. Dr. D. J. Williams characterized Marshall's conduct since his disbarment as "exemplary" and said that the character of the man was "first class in every way." He would be willing he said to trust any case he might have to Marshall as an attorney.

James A. Leathers, former president of the Harrison county Bar Association, was one of the petitioner's most impressive witnesses of today. On cross examination, he gave a technical analysis of the supreme court's disbarment decision relative to the legal versus the actual possession of the $82,000 Marshall is claimed to have not satisfactorily accounted for.

Other witnesses testified for Mr. Marshall were A. G. Favre, Bay St. Louis; F. B. Hewes, Gulfport postmaster; Walter Gex, Jr., Bay St. Louis lawyer; J. D. Arrington, Gulfport lawyer; W. T. Moore, president of the Harrison county Bar Association; T. J. White, Gulfport lawyer; William Estopinal, Gulfport lawyer; Gaston Hewes, county prosecutor at Gulfport; E. J. Adam, president of the Harrison County board of Supervisors; O. J. Dedeaux, lawyer; J. W. Havens, former sheriff of Harrison county and superintendent designate of the Beauvoir Soldiers Home; Circuit Judge Walter A. White; Ed Fairley, supervisor; S. J. Saucier, J. M. Terrell and Horace Kergosien.

Supplemental Affidavits

Additional affidavits said to have come from officials and citizens of Covington county attesting to a desire to see Marshall reinstated were presented this morning by Former Lieutenant Governor Bidwell Adam, counsel for Marshall with a request that they be made a supplement to 2200 already filed as exhibits to the petition.

Strenuous objection on the grounds that they reflected only the opinions of the affiants and could have no value as evidentiary matter was interposed by counsel for the contestants. Ruling on the admissibility was reserved by Chancellor Russell.

Considerable hot repartee occurred this morning between counsel for the opposing sides relative to certain lines of questioning and relative to the two distinct theories of the case being pursued by opposing counsel. Marshall's counsel maintained that the petitioner has been sufficiently rehabilitated since his disbarment to warrant re-instatement while counsel for the State Bar Association contends that he must evidence this by some expression of contribution and repentance and make a full disclosure of what he had done with the $82,000 he claimed to have paid to Jack Wilson, but which claim the supreme court branded as unbelievable.

Character Witness.

Numerous prominent men, drawn from both official and civil walks of life were introduced as witnesses for Mr. Marshall during the afternoon session yesterday. Bankers, lawyers, doctors, merchants, the mayors of three Coast cities, a city commissioner, a county judge and others, all said to have voluntarily offered their testimony, expressed a belief that the petitioner was "sufficiently punished for whatever of wrong or error he might have done" in the $80,000 scandal and should be readmitted to the practice of law in the courts of the state.

Robert L. Genin, Bay St. Louis lawyer, said that the people of his county thought Marshall, "had been made the goat" in the notorious Warrentite transaction.

Dr. C. M. Shipp, county health officer of Hancock county, said that the character and conduct of Mr. Marshall since the date of his disbarment had been "ideal and above reproach." He said the people of Marshall's home county did not know why Mr. Marshall had been disbarred.

E. J. Gex, county prosecuting attorney at Bay St. Louis, testified in laudatory terms of Marshall's character and ability. Leo Seal, Bay St. Louis banker, said the "leading business men of the Coast area want to see Marshall reinstated. He told Judge Venable in reply to questions on cross examination that the people with whom he had discussed Marshall's disbarment did not believe him guilty of "blackmail and false swearing under oath." Replying to a query as to what evidences Marshall had given that he had undergone a "rehabilitation of character" since the disbarment last November, Mr. Seal said that Marshall had shown a liberality of attitude toward those who brought about his ousting from the state bar and had not so much as criticized those responsible for his disbarment.

Mayor J. W. Milner of Gulfport said that he had never heard the honesty or integrity of Marshall questioned since the disbarment episode and that his conduct since that time had been "most creditable."

County Judge George Murphy of Gulfport said he was perfectly willing to see Marshall reinstated in the profession and would be glad to have him resume practice in his court. Chas. G. Moreau, Bay St. Louis publisher and bank president, testified that Marshall's disbarment did not injure the man's reputation among his home people of Hancock county.

A. J. Ramsey, circuit clerk at Gulfport, and Eustis McManus, chancery clerk, both spoke highly of Marshall's ability as a lawyer as observed by them over a period of years in which as court clerks they had come into contact with hundreds of attorneys. Charlie Roberts, Meridian, chairman of the legislative committee of a railroad brotherhood in Mississippi, was loud in his praise of Marshall's character and ability and his reputation for honesty throughout the state.

Dr. C. L. Horton of Bay St. Louis, Mayor Chas. Traub of the same city, Dr. A. P. Smith of Bay St. Louis and George L. Smith of Pass Christian, former representative from Harrison and Jackson counties, Mayor Jno. J. Kennedy of Biloxi; Dr. A. R. Robertson of Pass Christian, M. L. Michel, Biloxi and John H. Lang, of Pass Christian followed each other in rapid succession upon the witness stand as character witnesses, uniformly testifying as to their belief that Mr. Marshall should be reinstated.

Judge T. A. Wood of Mississippi City, former circuit and chancery judge, expressed a very decided opinion as to the accuracy of the disbarment finding in regard to requiring Marshall to account for the alleged $62,000 which he claimed to have paid to one Jack Wilson, but which the supreme court held was unbelievable when he declared that inquiry should not be made until the person paying it had demanded it back. Civil suit for recovery of the funds could be instituted by the person who had wrongfully paid it, he thought, otherwise others had no cause to complain.

Luther Maples, state commander of the American Legion; Walter Read manager of the Great Southern Hotel; Joe Mauffray, Bay St. Louis, S. E. Morse and S. C. Mize, Gulfport, all testified at some length to their belief that Marshall should be reinstated as a practitioner in the courts of the state and extolled his "good character" and reputation for honesty, integrity, ability and truthfulness.

Charles Breath of Bay St. Louis, another character witness, said he had a suit involving $16,000 which he hoped to place in Marshall's hands in case he was reinstated and was waiting to see the outcome of the reinstatement petition.

New State Fish And Game Warden For Mississippi

The Governor has named W. A. McGill of New Albany, Ed. McIntyre, of Brandon and Ben Stephens of Richton as the State Fish and Game Commission as provided for under the law. This commission has met and organized by electing Mr. McIntyre Chairman and Hunter Kimball of Jackson as State Fish and Game Warden. Upon the recommendation of Mr. Kimball district and county wardens will be selected for the entire state just as soon as there are available funds from license fees.

The entire cost of the operation of this new program is to be paid from license fees paid by those who hunt. The purpose of the whole matter is to protect and re-stock the fish and game supply of the state that within a few years time fish and game will be as plentiful as it was in the good old days. To do this it will be necessary to have the good will and co-operation of the citizenship in general. The more game we have the more money we will have with which to provide for more game. In many states a great success has been made of this proposition and we are told that conditions in Mississippi are most favorable for an abundant fish and game supply if we will co-operate with the authorities in the program to be put into operation soon.

THIS WILL EXPLAIN WHY GOVERNMENT ADDED MORE TAXES.

Quarterly Income Tax Payments Drop by 26 Millions Under Last Year's Payment.

An Associated Press message from Washington carries the information that income tax receipts on June 18, the third day of second quarter collections, amounted to $21,243,202.58 or less than half the $47,819,906.75 received on the same date last year.

Collections so far this month have amounted to $139,252,781.69 as compared with $213,627,884.73 for the corresponding period of last year.

For the fiscal year to date these collections have aggregated $1,035,231,423.95 which compares with collections of $1,778,256,766.21 for the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year.

The tendency to fight capital and the moneyed people in general, who give employment and who pay the bulk of taxes, results in disaster to the masses. The poor man, in the last analysis, must carry the burden if the rich cannot. The tendency has ever been to destroy those whom one might think is "making money."

Does Advertising Pay?

From the things it has accomplished, we should say that it DOES PAY!

It has made hand-written letters an oddity in business.

It has put hair oil on your head, where no hair oil could do any good, and on your son's head where no hair is needed.

It has put "Castoria" down the throat of almost every baby in the land.

It has put Pebece and Pepsodent on your teeth.

It has put "Gillette" in your whiskers.

It has put Murine in your eyes and Ivory in your tub.

It has put strap watches on your wrist, Holeproof hose on your feet, and Paris garters on your legs.

It has put Cremos between your lips, powder on your coat, with Ethyl in your car.

And yet, with all this evidence, and thousands of other cases that could be cited, some people are still stupid enough to ask—

"DOES IT PAY TO ADVERTISE?"
—J. D. GOSS, Los Angeles, Calif.

MY GIFT.

If I could flute or fiddle
Or had the skill to sing,
If I could read the riddle
That tangles everything,

I'd make a little measure
To start a crop of cheer.
I'd pulse each heart with pleasure
And flute away each fear.

If I could find the finger
To point the path to gain,
I would not let man linger
In poverty and pain.

If I had jobs for giving,
I'd set the world to work.
I'd let men earn their living
Who never sought to shirk.

If I had mints of money,
I'd see no infant lack.
I'd feed them milk and honey
And clothe each baby's back.

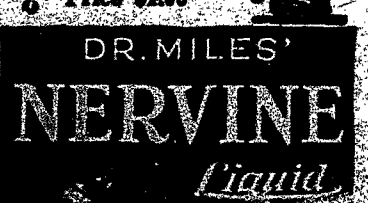

Alas, I have no treasure
For those who lack and live;
But love beyond all measure,
To all I gladly give.

From star to star, from sun to sun,
Their only thought is Number One
And with their egotistic eyes,
They see themselves supremely wise.

Audacious both in thought and will,
They boast themselves the master still,
Endowed of God with matchless worth
And foreordained to rule the earth.

They deem themselves without a flaw,
Divine embodiments of law,
Creation's crowning master-piece
To whom high worship shall not cease.

The mountains tremble at his word.
His glances awe the lion's herd.
Old Ocean thrills to kiss his feet,
This only thing God made complete.

He shakes his head among the stars.
They bow and bend like slender bars.
He snaps his fingers at the fates,
His only lord, his loves and hates.

Down all the reaches of the years,
Men have not even met their peers
And till the utmost end of time,
Their selfishness shall stand sublime.

All men are much the same, I guess,
Quintessence of all loveliness,
The acme of the social weal,
As they themselves profoundly feel.

God made each creature like its kind
And man, He made supremely blind.
Unable to reserve the rule,
Man must remain the MASTER FOOL.

The Big League Races.
Sports' Odds and Ends.

With a record of twenty successive victories scored over Canada, Mexico, Australia and Brazil, the second wave of American tennis players reached England early this week, in the persons of Frank Shields, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn. Without any practice on grass, they began competition in the Wimbledon matches, which started on the 20th.

Ellsworth Vines, the national champion has been practicing in Europe for two weeks and will be in the play with them. He will pair with Mrs. Moody in the mixed doubles, in addition to playing for the singles championship. Van Ryn and Allison will be paired in the doubles. Following the Wimbledon matches, the American contingent will meet the winning nation in the European zone the latter part of July at the Roland Garros stadium in Paris, in Davis Cup competition.

The American Women's tennis team won the Wightman Cup tennis series at Wimbledon, taking the first four matches, but losing the final three contests. This gives America six victories in the ten competitions for the cup.

Helen Jacobs won the opening contest from Dorothy Round and Helen Moody made it two straight by beating Mrs. Eileen Whittingstall. In the doubles match, Miss Jacobs and Mrs. Harper overhauled the British team. On the following day Mrs. Moody clinched the trophy in the first match by defeating Miss Round. At this point, the British woke up and Mrs. Whittingstall defeated Miss Jacobs and Mrs. Harper. The British delivered a final blow when Mrs. Moody and Miss Palfrey lost the closing match to Mrs. Whittingstall and Miss Nuthall.

Mrs. Moody's play was considered off-form and explained in part by her blistered foot which has troubled her since the French championship. She seldom rushed the net and most of the time hugged the base line, sparing herself as much as possible. On the second day, her foot work was faster but the champion did not extend herself in the least.

Bay Panthers Play Pass Christian Here Sunday—S. S. C. Park

The Bay Panthers, of the Mississippi Coast League, will cross bats with the Pass Christian Pirates at St. Stanislaus Park, this Sunday, June 26, game at 3 P. M. Both teams have been strengthened for the second half of the season and a real ball game is expected, so come out and cheer for the Panthers.

The Panthers are also arranging a double-header for July 4th.

Leonard and almost on a par with the popular interest in the heavyweight group. Tony Canzoneri, present champion, stands at the head of the class, but much of the interest can be attributed to Billy Petrolle, the "Fargo Express," who came from retirement a little more than a year ago, to plow through all opposition. He is generally recognized as a threat to Canzoneri who he fights in August for the title, but besides Petrolle, one finds Kid Chocolate, the flashy Cuban, Sammy Fuller, of Boston, Bat Battalino, former featherweight champion and Jack (Kid) Berg, the English fighter.

Canzoneri has not staked his crown since last November, when he defeated Chocolate in a furious 15-round fight. Berg defeated him before he was champion and Fuller beat him in an over-the-weight contest in Boston last year.

Playing super golf, Gene Sarazen set a new course record to win, the British open golf championship which this year crosses the Atlantic for the ninth consecutive time. Sarazen's 69, 70, 70, 74, for a total of 283, was two shots better than Bob Jones' famous record at St. Andrews in 1927.

Sarazen, in accepting the cup, promised the British that he would come back "next year to do my best." The American was five strokes ahead of Arthur Havers, who won the title in 1923 and has been the only British golfer to win since 1921. Sarazen won largely because he was able to pull back from bad positions without losing his head and had the courage to sacrifice a stroke when necessary. Incidentally, Havers in his desperate effort to overtake the American, broke his third round, making a 68.

Something of a sensation in tennis circles was the defeat of Ellsworth Vines, American singles champion, by Harry Hopman, of Australia, in the third round of the London tennis championship. Hopman, who had been defeated easily by Vines in the Davis Cup series, seemed to be the complete master of the lanky American title holder.

The race of the American League is proceeding as expected, with New York, Washington and Philadelphia leading the pack, and with the Yankees holding a fair lead which becomes more powerful as the season approaches July 4th.

More than Indemnity

Your fire insurance dollar provides far more than you realize. Of course it protects you from financial loss in case of fire. But it does so much more that it ranks as one of the most effective dollars you spend.

Merely as indemnity, Stock Fire Insurance is one of the cheapest necessities. Its average rate has consistently declined for more than 20 years, until in 1930 it reached the lowest figure in all American fire insurance history.

FIRST PRIMARIES FOR MISSISSIPPI THIS YEAR TO BE HELD AUGUST 23.

Threat For Separate Primaries For Commissioners and Judges Killed—Candidates For Congress Must File Intention to Run By June 24.

Jackson, Miss.—Mississippi will have two state primary elections this fall instead of four, Assistant Attorney General J. A. Lauderdale advised the State Democratic Executive Committee.

One section of the general primary law requires that primary elections for state offices be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in August. Committeemen contended this would have forced the first primary two weeks later, August 16.

A separate act sets the fourth Tuesday in August for the congressional primary. This would be Aug. 23, with the second primary, if any, three weeks later, making a total of four elections this summer.

The act designating terms of supreme court justices provides that primaries for these posts shall be held with the congressional primaries.

General Lauderdale found a section of the highway law which he said provides for the primaries to be held "as other elections," and interpreted this to mean that the primaries can all be held at once.

As a result, candidates for highway commission and supreme court can file up to 30 days prior to Aug. 23, while congressional candidates must file 60 days ahead, or by June 24.

A REAL PUZZLE TO THE WORLD.

This country's condition today is a colossal paradox.

We have 35 per cent of the gold in the world, yet millions of people are broke.

We have enormous stocks of wheat and yet millions are going hungry.

We have warehouses filled with the necessities of life, yet millions are destitute.

We have a surplus of almost everything in the essentials of life, yet there is a shortage among individuals. The whole system is wrong.

Our processes of distribution are so inadequate that perhaps one-fifth of our population is practically destitute.

A system which permits suffering and want when there is plenty for everybody in an utter failure.

The solution is to turn the system around and make it work the other way.

How to do it is the problem. It is a puzzle that is puzzling the best minds in this country.

It is puzzling the politicians. It is puzzling the statesmen. It is puzzling the financier.

It is puzzling the business man. It can't be solved right here in Bay St. Louis, or in Mississippi.

It is a national problem and on its solution depends the future welfare and progress of the millions of people of this country.—Columbus (Miss.) Dispatch.

PAINS QUIET COMING

"When I was a girl, I suffered periodically with terrible pains in my back and sides. Often I would bend almost double with the intense pain. This would last for hours and I could get no relief."

"I tried almost everything that was recommended to me, but found nothing that would help until I began taking Cardui. My mother thought it would be good for me, so she got a bottle of Cardui and started me taking it. I soon improved. The bad spells quit coming. I was soon in normal health."

HUMOR, PEP AND DRAMATIC PUNCH PUT "HUDDLE" OVER

Ramon Navarro Scores in Forceful Role of Steel Worker Who Quits Mill To Become College Football Star.

Speedy action, thrilling football games, and all of the sparkle of modern university life make Ramon Navarro's new starring feature, "Huddle," at the A. & G. Theatre, Sunday and Monday, one of the most entertaining in his career.

His characterization of an Italian laborer who wins a scholarship to attend Yale University is an entirely different type of role from his usual light, sophisticated portrayals.

The story concerns the difficulties of an obscure mill hand who is thrown into a strange social environment. His violent reactions due to his intense pride provide complications that are worked out to a surprising climax. During the course of the action, he is involved in rough and tumble fights and several Varsity football games. Every play is carried out with smashing power and there is no softening in hitting the line. Navarro shows plenty of driving "punch" during all of the athletic sequences.

Touchees of Comedy.

In many of the dormitory scenes there are touches of the comedy that has distinguished other Navarro portrayals. Most of the action takes place on the campus of Yale University and all of the backgrounds seem to be absolutely authentic. The scenes on the walks about the old buildings are particularly beautiful.

An exceptionally strong supporting cast is headed by Madge Evans in the feminine lead. She portrays her role with grace and dignity through many difficult situations in the production. Una Merkel uses her southern charms to cause unrest among the student body of Yale University and is charming in her coquettish appeals to men on the campus. Ralph Grady gives a virile performance as the battling football coach who "bucks up" the Varsity squad and helps Navarro find himself at the university.

Other capable portrayals are offered by John Arledge, Frank Albertson, Kane Richmond, Martha Sleeper, Henry Armetta, Ferike Boros, Rockliff Fellows and Joe Sauers.

PLENTY OF CENTS.

"Ten dollars," said Magistrate Porter of Evanston to Chas. Wack, accused of speeding through that peaceful suburb of Chicago.

"All right," said Mr. Wack, "I've got the money."

And then he proceeded to pour out a thousand pennies, asking the magistrate to count them to see if the amount was correct.

"You see," chuckled Mr. Wack, "I'm a collector from vending machines."

COST HER $4.25 TO REDUCE 65 POUNDS

"Worth It," Miss Bates Says

If you're young and fat read what Miss Bates of Beech, Iowa, has to say about Kruschen Salts—if you are middle age or old Kruschen shows you the way to lose fat the SAFE way.

"I took one bottle of Kruschen Salts a month for five months. It amounted to $4.25 and I reduced 65 lbs. but it was worth it. I imagine just 22 years old and weighing what I did. I could not enjoy myself as other girls did. I could not get the clothes I wanted. I think it is wonderful the results Kruschen Salts give."

To lose fat the safe, sane way—take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—eat less fatty meats, potatoes and sweets—a jar that costs but a small sum lasts 4 weeks. Get it at any drugstore in the world—but be sure for your health's sake to ask for and get Kruschen Salts. It's the little dose that does it.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Editor of the Sea Coast Echo:

Dear Sir—An article published in your valuable paper, issue June 17, under the caption "County Agent for Hancock," referring to the strawberry industry of this section, part of the presumptive paragraph read thus: "Little or nothing is known by our people in this new field of agricultural industry, etc., etc."

We beg to inform that said article is misunderstood. Therefore misleading and an injustice to many of our truck growers of our county; therefore the truck growers of the immediate vicinity of Bay St. Louis and a few others through the county have resolved and desire to let the public know the kind of growers we have in our midst.

Knowing that your sincere intention in this matter for the welfare of the people in general and especially for the welfare of the nation as a unit, and having repeatedly read your broad minded views or articles of your valuable paper in behalf of the truck-growers of this section, these latter facts have armed us with the confidence to unfold to you, so you may let the public know the truth as it stands by us growers and thereby correct this misinformation:

1. A score of years past some of our growers grew successful strawberries at Hammond, La.

2. Years ago right in our county some of our growers grew fine strawberries.

3. Some of our growers have grown for the past seven years the finest berries that have ever been grown.

4. (a) These berries were the finest I have ever handled 4-16-30 by Montelone Bros. and Co., New Orleans, La. (b) Your strawberries are very beautiful stock and are worth more money, etc., by John Vella & Co., Mobile, Ala. (c) We sold your berries at 15c a pint and can handle liberal shipments of your berries, etc., 4-14-31, by McCullough Bros., Atlanta, Ga. (d) This past season in the Mississippi territory, agents for two of the leading and largest distributors of the nation, Biedermann Bros., of St. Louis, Mo., and G. Gerard & Co., after weeks of handling our berries upon meeting the manager of our unit, exclaimed, how do you do it and where do you get those wonderful apples, alluding to the berries. (e) In the report of their final or season results the Pearl River Growers Inc., this is what they say in part: "It is a matter of pride to realize that the Picanette berries were in demand on all the markets the were shipped to, etc."

and it is a fact of gratification for us to announce that these berries are shared by the Hancock growers as we were combined and shipped with them throughout the whole season, under the management of Mr. Palumbo, whose professional, theoretical and practical agricultural knowledge cannot be excelled knowing the game perfectly well, for be markets they were shipped to, etc."

has a university education coupled with 14 years of fruit and vegetable merchantile business not only in his former home town, New Orleans, but in Chicago, Ill., and Toronto, Canada. This is what the outside grower, railroad and business people think of Mr. Palumbo. The people of your county are very fortunate to have a man of his calibre. I shall at any time come and testify so—Mr. E. E. Read, Secretary of the Pearl River Growers Inc.

The Bay unit under the management of Mr. Palumbo shipped this past season through the Pearl River Growers Association, over 5,000 crates of strawberries without a single crate unclassified or No. 2. We shall be delighted to hear of such record from any other shipping center. We have been very brief on this topic so vital to our community and we like to emphasize what the distinguished president of the Progressive Farmer Ruralist, Mr. Clarence Poe says in his late issue of June 15, 1930. Summary of his article:

"After 15 years of agricultural efforts, therefore my supreme appeal is for its organization of the Southern farmers and farm women."

Farmers must organize, developing their farm leadership and give it its support to be a success. If the farmer would only live in part this latter paragraph which is the key of agriculture progress and success."

A. PALUMBO.

Editor-Sea Coast Echo:

Will appreciate the publication of this letter in the next issue of the Sea Coast Echo.

Organized drives and propaganda by business organizations, financial leaders and newspapers have sprung up seemingly overnight, but display in their familiarity of tone and their use of half-truths to be the results of careful planning, although designed to appear spontaneous.

While these attacks pretend that they are aimed to prevent the enactment of further adjusted compensation or bonus legislation, it is the opinion of the American Legion that this is not their purpose.

Those who have organized these attacks so carefully are using the adjusted compensation legislation as a smoke screen and do not believe it will become a law as has been provided in the action taken by the senate in the past few days.

In the light of this, what then are the attackers endeavoring to accomplish?

The answer, it would seem, is obvious. The real object of the attack is the disabled veteran, and the widows and orphans of our dead. Government payments, either present or prospective, to these victims of the dead or disabled of the war are what the opponents hope to curtail, eliminate or prevent.

That is what it is all about, and clear-sighted Legionnaires with vision unclouded by this effort to confuse the issue, will not be deceived into thinking that it is the adjusted compensation which is being attacked, when in reality the target is the disabled and the dependents of the dead.

One of the favorite methods of attack is to point out that the veterans are receiving a billion dollars a year, or one-quarter of the national income. These persons would lead one to believe that this sum represents death and disability payments on account of the World War veterans. This is far from the truth.

In this billion dollars for instance are pension payments of $225,000,000 on account of the veterans of wars other than the World War. In addition there is more than $100,000,000 set aside for insurance payments—the insurance which the veterans paid for themselves out of their $1 and $1.25 a day allowed them by the government. In addition there is $100,000,000 set aside for the Adjusted Service Certificate Fund.

As a matter of fact, the total cost of the administration of the Veterans' Administration, the operation of Soldiers' Homes, of hospitals, and the cost of the medical care of all veterans, added to the payments made on account of death and disability of World War veterans, is only about $460,000,000.

So the organization will not be deceived or confused by the smoke screens from those whose real purpose in attacking us is to curtail and restrict the benefits already accorded the disabled and the dependents of the dead. The Legion must remain firm under these circumstances. We must not yield the just benefits so laboriously obtained, during twelve years of efforts, for those who can not fight for themselves. The cry is money—and the appeal is made to the pocketbook. Advantage is being taken of the difficult state of government finances to accomplish what would not be attempted in better times, definite curtailment of the funds which a grateful government should pay to the dependents of the men who lost their lives or wrecked their bodies that this government could be preserved.

The American Legion has pressed for the enactment of the widows' and orphans' bill, and the creation of a Senate veterans' committee that would make enactment of this bill possible during the present session. The counter-attack against these Legion moves is to reduce benefits for the dead and the disabled from $39 to $30,000,000 a year.

I may here cite an example of one man who opposes any legislation favorable to the disabled veteran and who is a leader in the fight to reduce the expenditures of the Veterans' Administration, Archibald B. Roosevelt of New York City.

When we look up the records of Mr. Roosevelt, we find the following in the Congressional Record:

"Mr. Archibald Roosevelt heads the self-styled national economy committee, which wants to reduce veterans relief. In 1930 the Roosevelt Steamship Co., of which Mr. Roosevelt was part owner and a director, secured a 10 year contract from the Government to carry the mail from Baltimore to Hamburg. The distance is 4,077 miles. The contract price of $6 a mile for 52 trips a year, which amounts to $24,462 a trip or $1,272,014 a year. The service commenced July 1, 1931. To date the Government has actually paid by reason of that contract the sum of $807,246. Other steamship lines would have rendered the same service for not to exceed $28,246. Therefore Mr. Roosevelt's company received a gift from the Government amounting to $799,004. The Roosevelt are jointly interested with J. P. Morgan in several steamship lines that have contracts to carry ocean mail. One of these vessels went from Plymouth by New York to London a short time ago. It carried 2 pounds of letters. The statutory price for such service is 80 cents a pound. The Roosevelt and Mr. Morgan received the contract price of $6 a mile, $20,214 for the trip, or a gift of more than $20,212."

Space and time do not permit me to dwell upon further examples of the propaganda as emitted by parties whose sole purpose is selfishness.

Thanking you for the publicity you may give this letter, I am,

Respectfully,

LAURENT DICKSON.

A SPLENDID PRIEST

Rev. Chas. E. Coughlin, pastor of the Shrine of the Little Flower, who last week wired $5000 to the "Bonus Army" in Washington for food and other necessities of life, when it appeared that no more funds would be available, provided the "bonus army" would remove the Communists from their army, is a deep thinker and a man of action.

Rev. Coughlin is pastor of the little church about 12 miles from Detroit. It is stated that his congregation is composed of only 30 families, yet last winter he is credited with supplying food, clothing and fuel to some 3000 persons. Two years ago he predicted that there was a scheme on foot by the countries of Europe to avoid the payment of the war debts, and a year later saw the moratorium go into effect.

Rev. Coughlin is a bitter enemy of Communism, and a fiery advocate of paying the ex-service men their bonus and a priest of wonderful accomplishments.—Bogalusa Enterprise.

I'M GOING MILKING, SIR.

Mrs. Mary Latches, widow with nine children, planned to marry Frank Kernizowski of 108000 South Homan avenue, Chicago.

But the plans are all off now, as a result of happenings last Monday evening, the details of which were related in Judge Jonas' court the next morning.

Mrs. Latches complained she was milking a cow in Kernizowski's barn, when her lover entered and dislodged her from the stool with a place kick that would have done honor to an All American football star.

"And he had given me that cow," reflected Mrs. Latches bitterly. "I did not" retorted Frank, "I just told her she could milk it once in a while. And I didn't kick her off the stool. The cow did."

Recalling perhaps what once happened to Chicago because of a kicking cow, Judge Jonas advised the contending parties to settle their differences out of court... before the fire got worse.

IF LETTERS YOU MUST WRITE.

Those having letters to write, should get their correspondence up to date before the 6th of July. On and after that day, nothing but a three cent stamp will answer. The Internal Revenue Department says that the banks will keep track of the depositor's checks, write off the check tax against his account at the end of the month, and turn the money over to the Treasury. A Real Investment.

During a time when the general public purchasing power has been far below normal, life insurance sales have held to a high level.

That is a good augury for the future of the country. The kind of thrift that buys life insurance is the kind that builds homes and factories, and makes for stability in government, business and society.

A lot of us who went wild in the boom years are coming down to earth. We're realizing that when it comes to investments nothing is superior to life insurance.

We've found that it pays good solid dividends, protects both the insured and his dependents against the future, and is as safe a thing conceived by man. And we're acting accordingly.

Sister Lucilla, St. Joseph's Academy, at Baton Rouge, is here visiting the local convent, planning to remain for a few days. Sister Lucilla, formerly located here, has many friends who are glad to greet her cheery presence again.

THE FLAG

Behold our Flag waving on high,
What does it there proclaim?
The stars and stripes threading the sky,
Liberty loud acclaim.

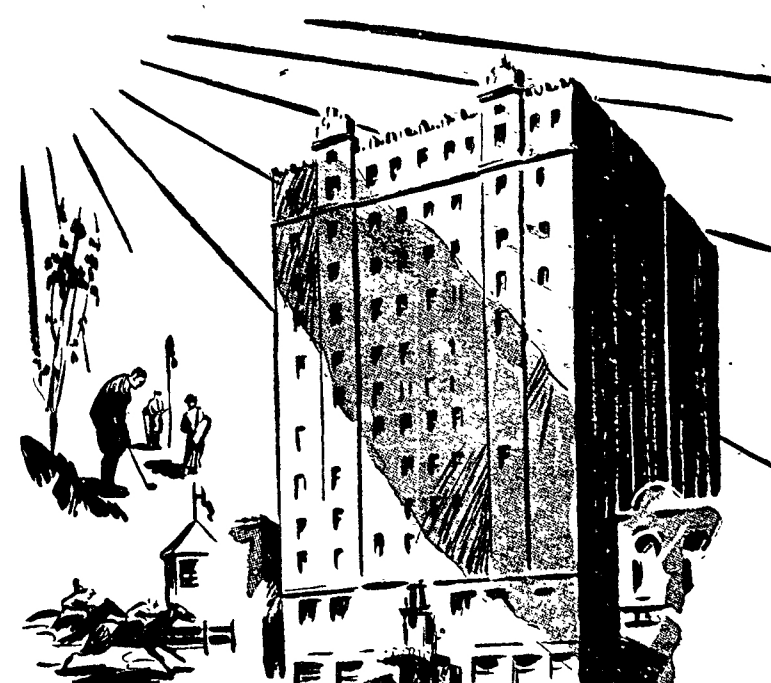

What breathe its folds, so traceful, fair,
Bending unto the breeze?
They tell of vict'ries patriots share,
Of land we once did swize.

What says each azure smiling star,
Dotting this precious thing?
It bounds with each bright blushing bar,
Hope to our hearts to bring.

What message does it loudly sing,
A song of freedom dear;
Oh to this holy emblem cling,
And to its voice pray heal.
